Energy Conservation You Can Help

In view of the energy crisis, the Federal Power Commission has directed Vepco and other utilities to report the steps taken to achieve reductions in the consumption of electric energy.

We are asking all our customers to cooperate with us in our efforts to meet the objectives set by the Federal Power Commission. You may already have implemented certain measures to reduce non-essential uses of electric energy. We now request that you review your facilities and operations again to determine if any additional reductions can be made that are consistent with human health, safety and public welfare needs.
